

John DiBattista - MBA Executive Coach and Facilitator

Chicago, IL
866-601-3614
johnd@ariacx.com

John DiBattista brings over 30 years of leadership know-how to his coaching, training, and facilitation. John served as a pilot and an officer in the United States Marine Corps and then transitioned into corporate America where he rose through the ranks of numerous Fortune 500 companies including; SC Johnson & Son, Alberto Culver, and MGA Entertainment. John most recently served as Vice President of Sales and National Accounts, and then served as Vice President of New Business Planning and Development. He led his teams to year over year growth and performance establishing deep relationships in major global consumer products and retail companies.

John's breadth and depth of leadership experience allows him to provide wisdom and meaningful real-world problem-solving solutions to each engagement. He is an experienced high ropes team builder/facilitator whose areas of focus include; leadership development, team building, and emotional intelligence.

Mr. DiBattista holds undergraduate degrees both in mathematics and engineering from the University of the State of New York and earned an Executive MBA from Pepperdine University.

Serving clients in Southern California and the Mid-West